Students will be expected to have the most current versions of their web browser and several applications that will be used in this course, including QuickTime, Flash, iTunes and Java.

Course Description

An examination of critical elements of digital citizenship, a survey of contemporary legal issues, and an exploration of copyright, fair use, and intellectual property relevant to educators and instructional designers.

Course Goals

This course provides students with an understanding of:

- ! common elements of digital citizenship models.
- ! contemporary legal issues important to educators.
- ! digital rights.
- ! technology legislation.
- ! copyright law and the provisions of Fair Use, including the DMCA and TEACH Act.

Student Learning Outcomes

Plagiarism is using what another person has developed as your own words or thoughts. Plagiarism is never